HISTORY: The original mech.lst was extracted by Carl Hommel (February 1992) using a perl script from Henry Link's MECHEDIT program. The 'Mechs had errors due to some quirks in the MECHEDIT software. In the never-ending search for a ready reference, David Low (October 1993) corrected the entries based on the Technical Readouts and the (corrected) Record Sheets, and added the 3055, MechForce, Solaris VII, and other published 'Mechs. MFNA Combat Values and record numbers were also added, and the notation was tidied up. Technology and source designations were added later, together with ammunition loads. The most recent major addition is the C-Bill cost column.

HTMLisation was originally suggested by Roqueforte O'Leary (rocky@st.nepean.uws.edu.au). I've taken the suggestion to heart, and all future updates will be in this format.

Ideas for further improvement (once I get my thesis finished!) include explicit weapon/ammo locations, actuator status, etc....

This listing contains 'Mechs that satisfy at least one of the following criteria:

- * They have a FASA-published 'Mech record sheet (complete with armor diagram, critical tables, etc...);
- * They have an assigned MechForce North America (MFNA) number.

Most 'Mechs satisfy both (standard 3025/3050/3055); some only satisfy the first condition (Crossbow, Battle Cobra, etc.); some satisfy only the second (Starslayer, Spector, Devastator, etc.). Some satisfy neither, and are not included (Grand Crusader, Nexus, Raijin, etc.).

The columns running across the chart are, respectively: Designation/Name; Tonnage; Combat Value; MechForce Number; C-Bill Cost; Engine Rating; Walk/Run/Jump Movement; Armor Factor; Armor Allocations (Head, Center Torso Front/Rear, Right/Left Torso Front/Rear, Arm, Leg); Heat Dissipation Capability; Weapons and Equipment. A '*' next to a field means one of:

- * Quad design (if after the name)
- * Endo Steel (if in the Tons column)
- * MFNA Combat Value non-calculable or not published (if in the CBV column)
- * No MFNA number issued (if in the MNA column)
- * No published C-Bill cost (if in the C-Bills column)
- * XL Engine (if in the Eng column)
- * MASC (if next to Walking MPs in the W/R/J column)
- * Ferro-Fibrous (if in the AF column)
- * Double Heat Sinks (if in the HS column)
- * Rear-mounted weapon (if next to a weapon type)

The designation column should be interpreted as follows:

OM{50/55/MF/NI} - Clan OmniMech, from TR3050/TR3055/MECH magazine/other
CL{2L/RF/MF/AN} - Clan second-line/refit/MECH magazine/other
2750 - Inner Sphere advanced technology, from TR2750
{30/VR/MF/SP}25 - Inner Sphere original technology, from TR3025/variant/MECH/other
{30/VR/MF/S7/SP}50 - Inner Sphere advanced technology, from

TR3050/variant/MECH/SolarisVII/other

3055 - Inner Sphere advanced technology, from TR3055

{MF}57 - Uses Level 3 technology, from MECH

- * PPC, LL, ML, SL, AC, MG, LRM, SRM should be obvious :-)
- * Extended Range versions are indicated by + (so LL+ = ER Large Laser)
- * Pulse versions are written as LPL, MPL, SPL
- * FL: Flamer
- * LB: LB-X AC
- * ULT: Ultra AC
- * GR: Gauss Rifle
- * STK: Streak SRM
- * OS: One-Shot SRM
- * SOS: Streak One-Shot SRM
- * ARROW: Arrow IV Artillery
- * NARC: Narc Beacons
- * (): CASE (Cellular Ammunition Storage Environment). It can generally be assumed that CASE is in all appropriate locations if it exists in the 'Mech. Clan 'Mechs automatically have CASE where appropriate, and hence it is not indicated.
- * ams: Anti-Missile Systems
- * apod: Anti-Personnel Pod
- * artemis: Artemis IV
- * bap: Bloodhound Active Probe
- * beagle: Beagle Active Probe
- * c3m: C3 Master System
- * cargo: Available Cargo space (tonnage in parantheses)
- * claw: Claw
- * cool: Coolant System
- * ecm: Guardian ECM Suite
- * hatchet: Hatchet
- * lams: Laser Anti-Missile Systems
- * ofp: Omni-Directional Firing Platform
- * sword: Sword
- * tag: Target Acquisition Gear
- * tarcomp: Clan Targetting Computer
- * torpit: Torso-Mounter Cockpit
- * tsm: Triple Strength Myomer

The total ammunition available for a particular weapon type is shown after the first weapon of that type.

This listing should be printed out on 120-column printers, or in landscape mode.
